STRATEGIC WORKFORCE PLANNING

PLANNING FOR TODAY AND THE FUTURE OF YOUR BUSINESS

Post pandemic, the business landscape will be more turbulent than ever. To stay ahead, organizations must fundamentally rethink their approach to work, workforce and operating models. SWP helps the organization to analyse the gap between the current workforce supply and the short- and long-term workforce demand, as well as identify effective strategies to close any such gaps.

Tuesday

12:30 pm - 01:30 pm (PAK)

11:30 am - 12:30 pm (UAE)

Discussion Points:

- What are the workforce implications of "Future of work"?
- How to anticipate long-term workforce requirements (moving beyond just headcount planning)?
- What are the key strategies to conduct a current-state analysis to identify gaps and needs?
- How companies can upskill /reskill employees for current or future roles?
- What are the future talent acquisition models to close critical workforce gaps?
